BACKGROUND

Our common house is on fire and we need to extinguish it. Emissions and climate change do not stop at borders. Europe and Africa are deeply connected and whatever happens on one side of the Mediterranean Sea frequently has consequences on the other side too.

This conference session on “Building a climate proof EU-Africa Partnership” aims to consider the ways the relationship and policies between the two continents can better bring about a fairer, more sustainable socio-economic approach to better protect people and planet.
